“Erected in a place where an extended police prison and corrective labour camp (Erweitertes Polizeigefangnis und Arbeiterziehungslager) of Nazi Germany operated from 1941 until 1944.

Civil and military persons from Latvia, Lithuania and Estonia, as well as transit prisoners, among them small children from Latgale, Belarus, and Russia, were imprisoned in the camp.

At different times during the operation of Salaspils camp more than 20 000 people were there; whereas at least 2000 - 3000 people died from hard labour, disease, starvation, inhumane treatment and punishments.

In 1967, one of the Europe's largest monument complexes in the memory of victims of Nazism was unveiled in the location of the camp.

The emotionally impressive memorial ensemble is an object of brutalist architecture of international significance.

Salaspils Memorial Ensemble is part of the Latvian Cultural Canon.

The memorial is comprised of a 100 m high concrete wall that symbolizes the border between life and death and seven giant sculptures.

The general mood is enhanced by the heartbeat of an electronic metronome, which sounds as an internal memory of the victims and the deceased.

In early 2018, an exhibition was opened at the gate gallery devoted to the history of Salaspils camp and memorial.”

3. Daugava Museum

The only museum in the Baltics dedicated to the history of a river.

Before the construction of Riga hydroelectric power plant, while performing archaeological excavations, a rich assortment of artefacts was collected, which became the basis for the museum in 1969. The museum is located in the Dole Manor complex, surrounded by a historic park. The cultural history of the Latvian "destiny river" Daugava and Salaspils Municipality.

Unique materials on the ancient history of Latvia, beginning with the first settlement of the Stone Age people - "Salaspils Laukskola" settlement (9,000 BC).

The interactive exhibition reveals what the Daugava valley looked like before the construction of the hydroelectric power plant cascade.

The centenarian fishermen farm by the lower reaches of the Daugava and a reconstruction of the largest fishing tools - weirs for catching salmon and lamprey, as well as an exhibition of fishing gear - are located in the Park.

The museum offers thematic excursions and museum education classes.

Nature Park of "Natura 2000" with the area 1044 ha almost completely covers Dole Island. Created in 1987 to preserve the special scenery of the part of Dole Island free of floods, historical monuments, and to ensure optimal use of recreation resources. The central part of the Nature Park is covered with pinewoods, whereas the terraces of the Daugava are covered in meadows and fields with several protected plant species and a variety of bird dwellings.

The largest island of the Daugava in the ancient sources is called insula regis. The name "Dole" (Dahlen in German) probably dates back to the 13th century, as that was a name of owner of Vecdole castle - Mr.Dolen.

Before the creation of Riga hydroelectric power plant reservoir and the flooding of the top of the island, Dole Island was about 8-9 km long, about 3.5 km wide, at present it is about 5.2 km long.

Dole Manor Complex with a park, medieval Vecdole Castle ruins, and the Solāži Bastion, providing an admirable view over the Daugava, are also located in the territory. Brilliant recreational opportunities for friends of nature - boat rent, marked cycling and walking routes, picnic sites.

5. The Ruins of St. George Church

During the construction of Riga hydroelectric power plant, a mistake that proved fatal to the church was made in the calculations – it was predicted that the church would be flooded and it was thus blown up, however it stayed outside the flood zone .

The most ancient parts of the church – the altar fragments – were preserved.

The 14th century architectural monument closest to Riga, in which the features of Romantic and Gothic style are found (remains of Gothic window openings, niches etc.). For many centuries the church remained at the centre of religious and social life of Salaspils, and at the centre of warfare in different periods. The church existed from the 14th until mid 20th century. The location of the church can be used as a landmark when looking for flooded historical cultural monuments of Salaspils on the map.

Since 2021, the ruins of St. George's Church have been included in the list of protected cultural monuments of the State.

Picnic sites, benches, children playgrounds and outdoor exercise equipment is installed in the area. A beach with all amenities is available.

6. Memorial Stones for Remembrance of the Battle of Salaspils in 1605

 56.8498, 24.3440

The stone is dedicated to the brilliant victory of the Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth and the forces of the Duchy of Kurzeme over the Swedish army on 27 September 1605 in the battle of Salaspils (Kirchholm).

At the time, the war in the military sense was called “the eighth wonder of the world” – the Polish-Lithuanian forces defeated the three times larger army of Sweden.

In the history, art and folklore of Poland and Lithuania, the name of Salaspils (Kirchholm) became the symbol of legendary heroism for many generations.

The stone was erected in 1996, restored in 2005.

 56.8507, 24.3344

The second stone was erected to honour the fact that on 27 September 1605 during the battle of Salaspils, a nobleman of Vidzeme Heinrich Vrede selflessly saved the life of the king of Sweden Charles IX.

About 9000 troops of the Swedish army fell in the battle. The stone was erected in 1995.

In 2021, information stands with a description of the historical events were installed near both memorial stones.

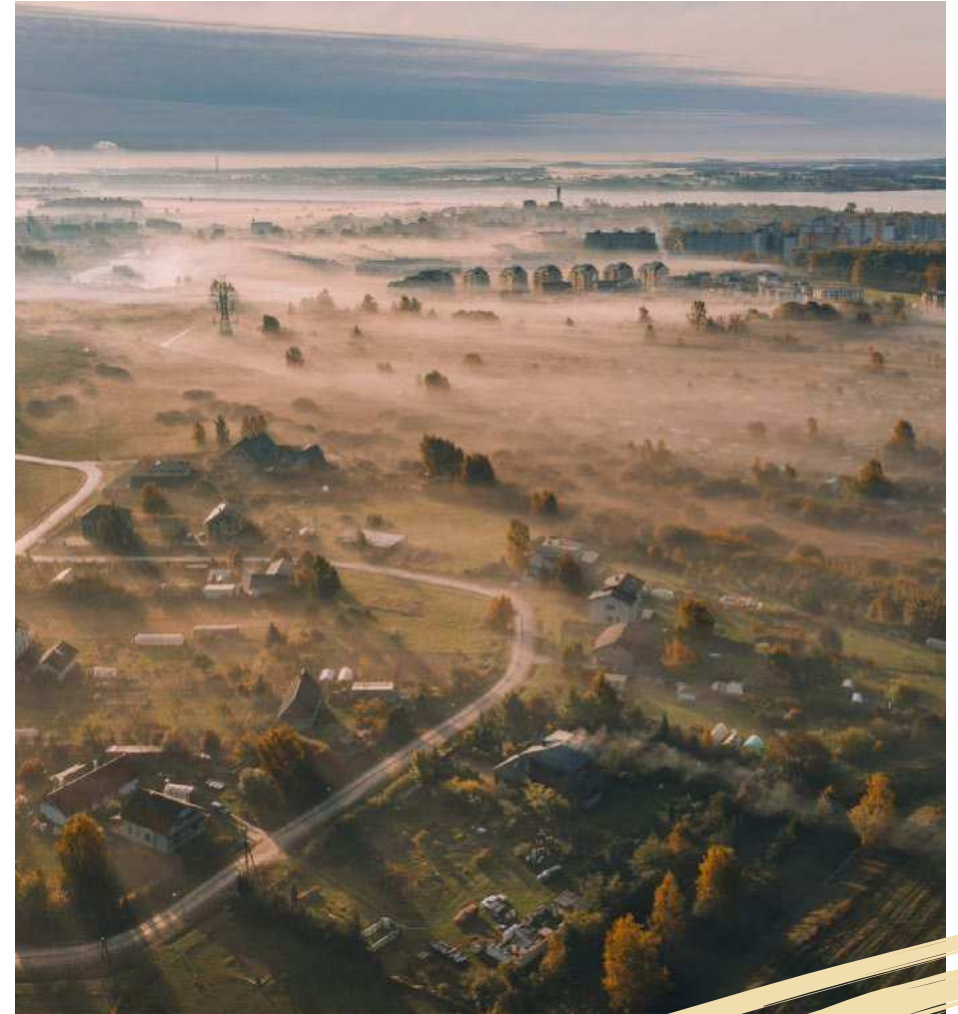

7. The Ruins of St. George Church

Dedicated to remembrance of the war of independence of the indigenous population – the Livs – of the lower reaches of the Daugava from the 10th to 13th century, as well as the uprising led by Ako, the leader of the Livs of Mārtiņsala Island (1206) against the Crusaders. At the time Mārtiņsala was a prominent Liv centre for a wider territory. Ako fell in the battle but his head as a symbol of victory was sent to Bishop Albert. At present Mārtiņsala is located below the level of the hydroelectric power plant reservoir. In the vicinity of the memorial plaque is the place where the oldest settlement of the Stone Age people known in Latvia – the settlement of reindeer hunters – was discovered (Salaspils Laukskola).

Ako memorial plaque was unveiled in 1994, restored and supplemented in 2013. Author: Ģ. Burvis.

In 2022, a metal plaque embedded in a boulder, providing descriptive information about the symbolism of the central memorial sign, supplemented the memorial ensemble. The territory is equipped with amenities, with a place for launching a boat, as well as picnic sites and a nature trail.

There is information that various types of antiquities were found in the monument: jewellery, iron spear, human bones. It allows suggesting that there was a cemetery. A few fragments of dishes found there might indicate that people lived on the castle mound in the 1st millennium BC and beginning of the 1st millennium AD. The Garden of Gnomes consists of many long greenhouse tunnels that grow Berries for Pleasure (strawberries, raspberries and blackberries of different varieties). Next to the tunnels under the open sky there are long rows of bush blueberries. Berries for Pleasure are grown by means of an integrated cultivation method, namely as close as possible to nature. There are 3 horses grazing in our garden, two of them are very special - Gypsy horses (Galineers Cobs), as well as two sheep. The Garden of Gnomes, just like the berry bushes and animals, is growing and changing. Like berries, it has both sweet and sour properties.

Nastasy.eu (Anastasija Nikolajeva)

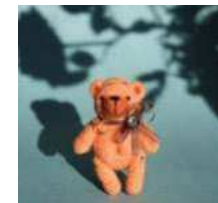

My name is Anastasija, and for more than 17 years I have been making unique jewellery that no one else in Latvia makes. My customers say this because each piece of jewellery - a brooch or feather earrings - is an individual masterpiece that cannot be repeated. I live in Salaspils which inspires my creative journey - especially the people and our beautiful National Botanical Garden

My passion is to make brooches with Swarovski crystals, pearls and other quality materials. I also make matching earrings and bracelets, which can be purchased separately. I also really like knitting cardigans. I mostly weave light and warm, so-called oversize jackets in alpaca wool and silk, as well as bomber jackets in merino wool. Simpler models are also available. I only use these yarns because they are really warm and good quality.
